It's not useful without the trend picture.

The request was for a bi-weekly update. This report is the update to the full report that was sent about three weeks ago.

RCMP has provided its first bi-weekly report of AR-15 transfers. Going fwd, should you and/or Ellen review before sending to dmo, or simply include you both in cc.

RCMP has also noted that they will be creating an automated report that will change the format slightly, but not what's being reported on.

They mentioned biweekly. Is this frequency manageable?

Hi Rob,

I noticed for week 43 the number contradict. For the most recent week 43, the number of individual AR-15 transfers was 336, however in the older table provided it was only listed at 32. Do you know why that may be?

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED]

As discussed, could you prepare trend lines (one for indiv and one for biz) for the bi-weekly transfers of AR-15s. I've attached the most recent ones (20191103 and ar_15_transfers_1), but also have attached reports that were provided in the spring (May-June) for your consideration in developing the report.

We should also create a couple of bullets to assist dmo/mino to understand what's occurring on a bi-weekly basis [REDACTED]

This doc will be regularly updated as new numbers come in from the rcmp.

Thanks,
Rob

Hi Suzing,

The graph helps. I think we need to show (for comparison purposes) the trend in 2018 as well. While the spring/summer of 2019 shows a definite spike, it would be good to know if this is anomaly or does the # of transfers rise consistently each year around the same time.

We also ( as noted below) need [REDACTED]

Thanks,

Hi [REDACTED]

As discussed, could you prepare trend lines (one for indiv and one for biz) for the bi-weekly transfers of AR-15s. I've attached the most recent ones (20191103 and ar_15_transfers_1), but also have attached reports that were provided in the spring (May-June) for your consideration in developing the report.

We should also create a couple of bullets to assist dmo/mino to understand what's occurring on a bi-weekly basis [REDACTED]

This doc will be regularly updated as new numbers come in from the rcmp.

Thanks,
 Rob

Hello [REDACTED]

In [REDACTED]'s absence, these are reports that come from CFP every 2 weeks. We are to keep charting and analyzing the purchases. This will help for any briefings and drafting. We want to be able to see what is the current trend. It is also important to compare against an earlier baseline to be able to see if the trend is a change and by how much.

I will send you other emails so you can see Rob's request and also what [REDACTED] has started.

Thank you.

Good morning all!

I know I owe you a report for this week, but unfortunately, COGNOS (our system) has been down since the weekend. I have you on my mind, as soon as it is up and running I will send you the numbers.

Sorry about that.

Hi [REDACTED]

From my understanding Alain and Rob Daly had a conversation with respect to AR-15 transfers. In this regard, the data provided to PS on AR-15 transfers refers to records of new registration certificates issued to transferees (recipients) of firearms.

If you still need a formal reply from CFP in writing, please send it through CFP Taskings and the Directorate responsible for the data will provide a formal reply.

Have a good day.

Good morning Don,

Just to follow-up from our telephone conversation last week, would it be possible to define business transfers and individual transfers with respect to the AR-15 data in writing? Just to clear up any misunderstandings before briefing senior management.

Many thanks!

Good morning Geneviève,

Thank you so much for all this information, it has been a great help. I had a few additional questions, please see down below. We are trying to get a good handle on this before sending it forward this morning.

Thank you very much!

Subject: Re: AR-15 transfers data - business and individual

Good morning ██████████
 Not quite.

When the firearm is imported to Canada, the manufacture will sell the firearm to a business who will then 'REGISTER' the firearm (for the 1st time).

When the business sells that firearm to an individual, he will 'TRANSFER' it to the individual.

Then, if he wish to sell it, the individual will 'TRANSFER' to another individual.

So we register it once, then we transfer it. Does this mean that an AR-15 imported to Canada by a business would be entered once into your database? However, with a transfer from business to individual and another individual- you can have multiple transfer certificates? (trying to distinguish between "register" and "registration certificates" with transfer)

Simply put:

Business Transfer = from Business to Individual Could the business transfers be not only to an individual but wholesaler to retailer (ie. Business to business)?

Individual Transfer = from Individual to Individual

For the numbers provided for transfers (business or individual), do these represent the number of new AR-15s in the country? Or does the data capture multiple transfers for 1 firearm in a given week ie. from business to individual, individual to individual or business, etc.

Is that clear? Terms can be very technical.

Don't hesitate to write back if it's not clear or if you have further questions,

Geneviève

Good morning,

Public Safety has been provided with bi-weekly data of AR-15 transfers of businesses and individuals. I would like some clarification on what business transfers entail versus individual transfers. Are business transfers solely when businesses purchase from manufactures?

I appreciate any information!

Thank you,

Hello Suzing,

I've completed the update and attached the most recent summary above. Excel is so beautiful, I just updated the numbers on Excel and it automatically updated my graphs on the Word document without me having to re-copy it. Easy peasy.

Thanks!

AR-15 Transfers for Individuals and Businesses in 2018 and 2019

Background:

The data on AR-15 transfers for individuals and businesses were provided by the Canadian Firearms Program (CFP).

This data refer to records of new registration certificates issued to transferees (recipients) of firearms.

The data will continue to be monitored for notable trends, as updated information is made available.

Analysis:

The graph below displays AR-15 transfers from individuals and businesses for the period of April 2018 to December 2019.

- Based on 2018 data, the average number of weekly AR transfers for individuals is 293 transfers and 185 transfers for businesses.

Enlarged comparison graphs of individual and business transfers for the period of May to July for 2019 and 2018 data in comparison to 2018 transfers during the same period.

- During the period of May to June 2019, the number of weekly individual transfers increased by 1,416% (294 to 4,457) and 590% (284 to 1961) for weekly business transfers. See Tab A for highlighted data.
- When comparing 2018 (May-June) to 2019 (May-June) transfers for both business and individuals, the year over year increased 226% (4,873 weekly transfers to 15,884). Individual weekly transfers in 2019 (10,943) accounted for much of the significant increase from 2018.
- Since July 2019, the numbers of weekly transfers have returned to pre-mid May-June normal level.

See Tab A for raw data from CFP for 2018 and 2019 values of individual and business transfers.

See Tab B for bi-weekly reporting table for 2019 individual and business transfers beginning October 21, 2019.

Hello Rob,
 It was arriving routinely without prompting before. Perhaps their new year schedule is not fully set up. They might need a reminder from you.
 Thanks.

 Thanks [REDACTED] Do we have an eta on when we'll receive it?
 I can ask CFP to put a rush on it as the Mino is requesting.
 Thanks.

Hi Rob,
 This is the most recent data we have on AR-15 transfers. We are currently missing transfers for weeks 13/01/2020 to 19/01/2020 and 20/01/2020 to 26/01/2020. Once received I will update the document accordingly.
 Thanks!

Transfers for Individuals and Businesses for Restricted Firearms to be Recommended for Prohibition

The below table provides available data for restricted variances for each firearm to be recommended for prohibition. The number of transfers for non-restricted firearms is not available.

While some transfers are from business to business and individual to individual, the majority of firearm transfers are in the form of sales from businesses to individuals.

Table: Firearm Transfers for individuals and Businesses from October 21, 2019 to February 23, 2020

Firearms	Individual	Business	Total
AR 15	7,307	5,411	12,718*
V58	64	28	92
Swiss Arms SG-550/SG-551 Classic green, four seasons	6	3	9
SIG Sauer	122	93	215
Ruger Mini-14	2	1	3
Robinson Armament	7	3	10
M14 Rifle	5	0	5
CZ Scorpion EVO 3 Carbine and Pistol	87	18	105
Beretta CX Storm Carbine	31	8	39

*Includes data for the full month of October 2019. Data for the AR 15 only is current to March 19, 2020.

Hi Randall,
On our call with TBS this morning, Tina asked for information to help prepare for the TB meeting. The attached document and details below are what we agreed to share.
Hope this helps. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks

Hi Tina,
Further to our call earlier today, please find attached and below information that may be useful for your briefing purposes.

2. Attached is the sales data table for the nine assault-style firearms since January 1, 2019. Also attached is a summary of AR15 sales data for the past year.

- Data is only for the restricted class of firearms
 With the exception of the AR family, most of the remaining firearms on the list are in greater quantities in the non-restricted classification, for example
  - Ruger Mini 14: ~16,800
  - VZ58, CZ858: ~ 9,400
  - M14: ~5100

3. An update on the NZ buy-back program along with best practices and lessons learned is attached.

If you have any further questions or require additional clarification, please don't hesitate to contact me or Rob (robert.daly@canada.ca or 613-998-0048)

The data on AR-15 transfers for individuals and businesses were provided by the Canadian Firearms Program (CFP). This data refers to records of new registration certificates issued to transferees (recipients) of firearms.

*The data for February 2020 only captures transfers up until February 23, 2020.

New Zealand Gun Ban & Buyback Program

Performance Summary

of collection events	# of owners who have handed in	# of prohibited firearms collected	# of prohibited parts/accessories collected	total compensation paid (CAD)
685	33,619	56,250	194,245	$85,857,086

What is banned?

- All semi-automatic rifles and semi-automatic shotguns that can accept a detachable magazine that holds more than five (5) cartridges.
  - Firearms with these characteristics fall into all three classifications in Canada;
  - NZ definition would capture most assault-style firearms in Canada as many are capable of receiving a detachable magazine greater than five cartridges
- Prohibit high capacity magazines capable of holding more than 5 cartridges shotguns, or 10 cartridges for other firearms, and other parts such as: butts, bump-stocks, silencers, sights, and any component to enable a firearm to fire with semi-automatic or automatic action.
  - Many of these parts are already banned in Canada.
- Exemptions were given to dealers, collectors, pest control, heirlooms/mementos, museums and Department of Conservation employees.
- Similar to Canada, New Zealand (NZ) does not have a federal gun registry; therefore the number of firearms affected is unknown.
  - Total estimated number firearms covered by the ban is 56K-173K;
  - Approximately 250,000 licenced individuals in New Zealand, compared with 2.2 million in Canada.
- NZ buyback program ran for 6 months from June 20 to December 20, 2019.

Buyback Program

- NZ program is entirely run by federal departments and agencies, including: the NZ Police Service, the NZ military and the NZ Transportation Agency.
- Owners were able to hand-in their firearms at collection events (685 events were organized), to gun dealers, or arrange for bulk pick-ups by police at their homes if more than 10 firearms.
- Compensation was based on type, age and condition of firearms and parts being handed in and payments were administered by the NZ Police Service.

Cost

- The cost of the buyback program was estimated at $181 million (CAD), for administration and compensation. The full cost incurred by their national entities may not be reflected in this total.
- To date, the NZ Police Service paid out $86 million (CAD) in compensation to owners.

Progress

- During the program, NZ police is said to have collected 56,250 firearms. Given the estimated number of affected firearms is between 56,000 and 173,000, this represents 35% to over 100% of the expected total.
- During this same period, the police have collected approximately 194,245 prohibited parts and accessories.

Next Steps

- The Arms Legislation Bill was introduced in the New Zealand Parliament on September 13, 2019 to create a firearms registry and establish an advisory group for firearms.
  - New provisions would also include: the creation of a licencing regime for shooting clubs and ranges, restrictions on possession of ammunition, a requirement for health practitioners to notify police when they have concerns regarding a firearms licence holder.

Best Practices Identified

- Emphasis was placed on public facing reporting and performance to ensure transparency
- NZ engaged the firearms community (special interest groups and firearms business community) to seek feedback, guidance and support.
- Given the time sensitive nature of NZ's approach, they engaged the services of Deloitte, KPMG and SAP to assist with marketing, pricing and payment.
- A fair compensation value for the firearms (75% of retail value) was established to promote compliance.

Lessons Learned

- There were several situations where individuals attempted to fraud the system and obtain compensation for firearms where the individual was not the owner of the firearm or the individual was not a resident of NZ.

- NZ underestimated the number of litigation files (individual & class action) that resulted from the ban initiative.
- The ban did not include all types of firearms which led to a displacement in the market to those firearms not affected by the ban.

Hey Rob

As requested, transfers over the last 12 month period. I've provided all types but column G applies to specifically restricted / prohibited rifles (Type = RI).

The three tabs just provides the info a a variety of different ways.

Rob

Great! Thanks. So far I don't think we're tracking the others on an ongoing basis given that the numbers are much lower (and there's limited capacity at the CFP, but point taken). Do you have an updated version of the attached doc?

FYI - We haven't received updated data for all other principal models since February 23, 2020, as such the numbers reflected in the document are not up to date.
Thank you and have a great day!

Hi Amanda,

Attached are the latest AR 15 transfer numbers. Could you please update our tracker and then flip to me. With all the talk of increased sales over the past few weeks, I'm curious to see where the numbers are at ... I expect that these ones will be lower than 2 months ago given the closures (retail and RCMP) and the time it takes to purchase a restricted firearm (ie, people weren't running out on the weekend to pick one up!) but would like to see the comparison. Might also be worth sharing with MinO.

Thanks

Attached is an updated overview of the AR15 transfers up to April 19. We received the bi-weekly transfer info this morning and the attached incorporates the most recent data. I wasn't sure if this is something MinO may be looking for under the current circumstances.

As expected given COVID-19 related closures and slow downs, the number of transfers so far for April have dropped significantly.

Thanks

Great! Thanks. So far I don't think we're tracking the others on an ongoing basis given that the numbers are much lower (and there's limited capacity at the CFP, but point taken). Do you have an updated version of the attached doc?

Hi Amanda,

Attached are the latest AR 15 transfer numbers. Could you please update our tracker and then flip to me. With all the talk of increased sales over the past few weeks, I'm curious to see where the numbers are at ... I expect that these ones will be lower than 2 months ago given the closures (retail and RCMP) and the time it takes to purchase a restricted firearm (ie, people weren't running out on the weekend to pick one up!) but would like to see the comparison. Might also be worth sharing with MinO.

Thanks

Can you please take a look at this. It's likely pretty straight forward but I just don't have time to sort it out. (Context is a hot issues note for the minister that Ashley is working on – basically it's an update of a QP note but we need to incorporate this too I guess.)

Subject: Mino - data request

Good morning Lawrence,

As per Mino's request, we have attached updated information regarding the following sales data:

- a. Weekly transfers of restricted rifles for the past year
- b. The recent bi-weekly transfers for the AR-15 (from Feb 24 – Mar 19)
  - also included is the monthly transfers since January 2019
- c. At this time, CFP is not able to generate data with regards to the number of new licence applications within the past few weeks as this is manually entered and Miramichi is working with limited staff

General Observations:

- On average, there are approximately 700-800 weekly transfers of restricted rifles (RR) over the past year
- Spike in transfers of restricted rifles largely driven by AR-15 sales between May and June 2019
- Since March of last year, there has been a slight increase in RR transfers in late September 2019, early December 2019 and early February 2020
  - these increases in RR transfers mirror the shifts in the AR market
- Over the past 4 weeks (Feb 18-Mar 19) AR transfers, on average, are in the range of 390-420 transfers per week.
  - The last four days (ending March 19) has had 531 transfers. While this indicates an upward trend, it is premature to consider it a spike until the final total can be provided.

Let me know if you require further information or have any questions.

Thanks,
Rob

Thanks for the context Patrick. In terms of the documents provided, here are my comments:

- "AR 15 transfer trends" provided by [REDACTED] is the latest version from the stats obtained last week (week ending April 19, 2020).
- Attached is the revised "Weekly AR transfer stats". I included weeks 13 through 16 and saved it in RDMIS (# 3561526).
- As for, the weekly transfers of restricted rifles, I'm not sure where this data was pulled from and what rifle transfers are counted.

Hi Amanda.

For context, the Minister is meeting with gun control groups Monday morning in relation to a public letter (attached). The draft talking points are also attached, but we've been asked to include the AR-15 numbers. The relevant bullet is currently:

- I understand your concern hearing the media reports of a surge in the sale of firearms and ammunition in the last few months.

When I reviewed the data [REDACTED] sent me, it didn't seem that that uptick in firearms and ammunition purchases reported by the media extended to AR-15s or even restricted rifles: the buying pattern seems stable. Is that your understanding as well? If so, I would add:

- I understand your concern hearing the media reports of a surge in the sale of firearms and ammunition in the last few months. On a positive note, it would appear that this surge in purchases does not seem to encompass Ar-15s or restricted firearms, as RCMP reports purchasing patterns for these are unchanged.

Or words to that effect. Does this seem ok to you guys?

[REDACTED] – do you think this meets the request? We surely don't need a chart do we? I honestly think it makes more sense to send the raw data to MO under separate cover. Meh.)

Cheers and happy Friday

P.

Subject: RE: Numbers in regs

Hi [REDACTED] – Here is additional information on the numbers for restricted rifles. Last March, the RCMP provided data on all restricted transfers; however the data captured type of firearm (i.e. rifle, shotgun, handgun, etc.), different from what is usually tracked (i.e. by firearm - AR, etc.). Amy saved this raw data in RDMIS #3540735; and Rob pulled from this data the rifles only and created a table with a graph (RDMIS #3540754).

I noticed that in the raw data set provided by the RCMP, the numbers include both restricted and prohibited firearm transfers (see title for each spreadsheet). There doesn't seem to be a distinction made between both classifications per type of firearm in the data provided so I'm not sure if this distinction was made when determining the numbers sent to MINO on March 23, 2020 (see below). You will notice that these are not broken down by firearm; only overall numbers of restricted rifle (and perhaps prohibited rifle) transfers are captured. Note that these numbers also include AR transfers. To my knowledge, we haven't received updated data from the CFP on this.

- On average, there are approximately 700-800 weekly transfers of restricted rifles (RR) over the past year
- Spike in transfers of restricted rifles largely driven by AR-15 sales between May and June 2019
- Since March of last year, there has been a slight increase in RR transfers in late September 2019, early December 2019 and early February 2020
  - these increases in RR transfers mirror the shifts in the AR market
- Over the past 4 weeks (Feb 18-Mar 19) AR transfers, on average, are in the range of 390-420 transfers per week.
  - The last four days (ending March 19) has had 531 transfers. While this indicates an upward trend, it is premature to consider it a spike until the final total can be provided.

As for information requested on the NZ ban, the list of affected firearms per make and model is provided in the price list; however, I'm not sure if a cross-reference with our proposal was completed in the past.

Thank you,
Amanda

To add to the list the following...

I will ask [REDACTED] team to provide answers to C-71. I think Esha was the back up on NZ so will see if she has that at the ready. Just so we can avoid doubling up on work.

Increase in restricted long guns (rifles)?

Latest update on NZ and what was their ban? What did they prohibit?

Status of CIF of C-71 – generally which ones are and aren't in force in simple and plain language.

Yes, agreed.

I think some of the questions we could do ourselves – like how many firearms are currently prescribed in regs – but may want to have those validated by CFP.

I did a quick count of the firearms prescribed by regulation: including named variants, I came up with 316 prescribed as prohibited, and 29 prescribed as restricted. If named variants aren't included, I counted 105 prohib, 3 restricted. It's a bit confusing to count, though – there's often more than one firearm listed under a single heading – so I'm willing to be challenged on my results. I also haven't (yet) counted the number of long guns.

Thanks,
Brendan

Subject: RE: Numbers in regs

Hi everyone,

I wanted to connect on the tech briefing conversation we had with Randall yesterday where he threw out some of the information that he wants/needs for his back pocket for the announcement. I thought I would send you the questions I caught. Please let me know if they make sense and are consistent with your understanding of what he asked for. I admit that yesterday's discussion was difficult for me both because I was (unfortunately) multi-tasking and because of my lack of knowledge of the technical aspects/details/differences. That said, I noted the following:

- How many firearms are currently prescribed in regulations now? (As noted below)
- Number of variants for each parent?
- How many are restricted? How many are long guns? - not sure if this is for the new list, those currently prescribed or both.
- What is the total number of firearms affected?

Does that capture it? Anything else to add or any adjustments? Is this information that we have or should we ask the CFP?

Thanks

Also – I may have misunderstood this part of the call, when he was asking about the “455 variants” that Amanda, [REDACTED] and I counted – but did Randall say he wanted the number of variants for each model?

Thanks amanda. My read of it was that he wants it for his back pocket. We also need to confirm the total number of firearms which I think we have somewhere but we need to confirm with the CFO.

Hi [REDACTED] – (In case you missed this and for your consideration), during the call and based on my notes, Randall mentioned that he would like specific numbers on how many FA are currently prescribed in the regs (he thinks approx. 264), and how many of those are long guns. I’m not sure if he wants this explicitly mentioned in the deck, or as back pocket info only.

Thanks,
Amanda

Hi Randall and Rob,

Tried you both by phone. I understand you're seeking clarity on this. Can we discuss when you have it?

We've moved the internal dry run to tomorrow.

Thanks,
Ryan

Subject: Briefing Summary - Parliamentarians

This afternoon the Parliamentary Secretary, PS along with officials from PS, DOJ, CBSA, GAC, and CFP held a briefing for Parliamentarians on the government's announcement on the immediate prohibition of assault-style firearms. PS presented a deck outlining the elements of the initiative. To note, the tone of the briefing was difficult and the call was challenging.

MP Cathay Wagantall (Yorkton-Melville) asked why the RCMP web portal was shut down before the announcement. In response, CFP mentioned that two applications were brought down last night for maintenance, and were kept down to update the classifications of the affected firearms. The system was up and running approximately an hour after the announcement.

Overall, MPs were concerned for businesses in their riding, and asked how businesses will be compensated. PS mentioned that details will be identified later.

MP Daniel Blaikie (Elmwood-Transcona) asked about further information on funding around the buyback program estimates, and funding for gun smuggling. PS reinforced that details on the buyback program will be identified later.

MP Alex Ruff (Bruce-Grey-Owen Sound) asked about why a definition for these firearms is not provided; however principals are identified. PS referred to the rationale that the firearms are not reasonable for hunting or sporting purposes. On request, PS mentioned that the list was determined based on a series of principles, approved by Ministers through Order-in-Council.

MP John Barlow (Foothills) asked if the buyback program will compensate owners for accessories. No details on the compensation program is available. PS reinforced that details on the buyback program will be identified later.

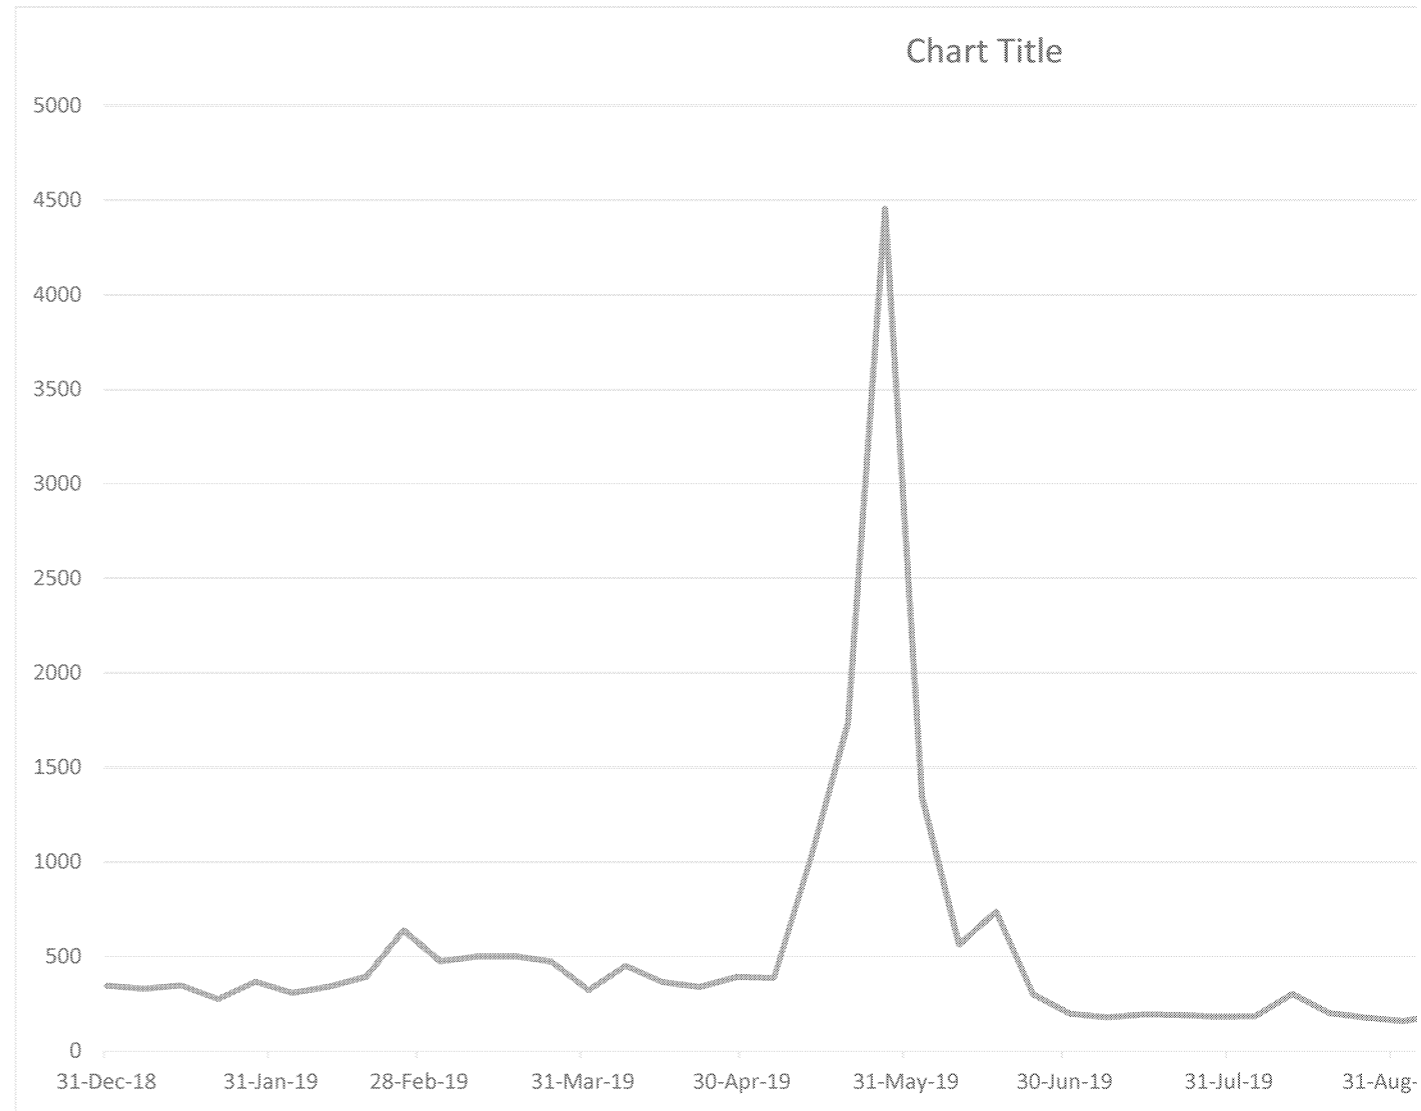

A question was asked in regards to the tragedy in NS, and if these measures announced today would have changed anything in what happened. PS reinforced that the intent of the prohibition is to reduce the number of these firearms on the Canadian market, and to reduce the possibility that they are employed in mass shootings.
